CLASSICAL FORMULAS FOR MODERN DISEASES

For the first time in history, nine of the world’s most knowledgable Jing Fang masters will be gathering under one roof. This is a rare opportunity for Chinese medical practitioners to learn first hand how these leading masters use Classical herbal medicine.

International Jing Fang Conference
29th-30th September 2018

We will host a two day conference to allow each and every speaker to give delegates an insight into their individual methods. Our speakers have dedicated their life-long careers to bring traditional methods of classical herbal medicine forward to treat modern day diseases. This will be a fantastic opportunity to meet fellow Jing Fang practitioners from all over the world.

Jing Fang CPD Course Series
1st-6th October 2018

Our speakers will be travelling from all over the globe for this event. To make the most of their visit, we have arranged a series of CPD courses with the Jing Fang masters to teach their specialist subjects.

BRINGING THE TRADITION FORWARD

Jing Fang 经方 or Classical Chinese herbal medicine has been developed as an independent theory within Chinese medicine and focuses on the use of herbal medicine. Jing Fang is a system that identifies patterns according to the Six Channels, which was first described by master Zhang Zhongjing 张仲景 within the Shanghan Lun 伤寒论 (Treatise on Cold Damage). In addition, we categorise symptoms according to the Eight Guiding Principles: Yin and Yang; Exterior and Interior; Heat and Cold; and lastly Deficiency and Excess. Using this system, we are able to recognise the root cause and treat the patient and not just the disease itself. Jing Fang is based upon using simple ingredients and small dosages, from which has resulted in great clinical efficacy in short periods of time. For this reason, Jing Fang has gained a lot of attention amongst practitioners in Europe, the USA and Canada.

Why attend the International Jing Fang Conference?

Chinese medicine is not provided through primary healthcare systems in the West and so training can be very limited. In the UK, education in herbal medicine is now more threatened than ever before. Jing Fang is our chance to change that.

We have support from Universities, societies and regulatory bodies from all over the world; all of whom share our vision and ideology for Jing Fang and we hope you will too.

We strongly recommend that all delegates attend the Weekend Conference as it will give you a comprehensive insight into various styles, topics and case studies from our Jing Fang masters. It will also give you the chance to meet like-minded practitioners from all over the world.

To take your learning to the next level, we have a week of exciting CPD courses exploring topics such as autoimmunity, asthma, bi-syndromes and infertility.
New to Jing Fang?

If you have ever wanted to learn herbal medicine, Jing Fang is an excellent way to start. You will learn how to diagnose patients according to the symptoms presented and then how to prescribe formulas. Our keynote speakers will teach you how to adjust your formulas throughout treatment to help you achieve results in the most efficient way possible.

If you’re an Acupuncturist, we really encourage that you learn Jing Fang particularly as you already have knowledge in Chinese medicine. Jing Fang will take your practice and career to the next level.

Prof. Huang Huang famously says that practitioners who are skilled in Jing Fang, Acupuncture and Moxibustion will be highly successful. We recommend Prof Huang’s 3 day course on Body Constitution, Differentiation and Clinical Application (4th-6th Oct) to beginners (pg 15).

Meet the Jing Fang Masters

We have nine world-class Jing Fang masters on board, including Professor Huang Huang and Professor Feng Shilun. Each of our keynote speakers will present their special approaches and invaluable knowledge that they have accumulated.

Language

Each lecture within the Weekend Conference will be translated into either English or Mandarin Chinese to ensure that all delegates can benefit from the event.

During the week, we have separated English and Chinese CPD courses to allow for maximum learning capacity. The courses taught by Professor Feng Shilun & Professor Huang Huang will be translated from Chinese to English. To view courses in Chinese, please turn to the back of this brochure.

We are extremely fortunate to have three highly experienced TCM practitioners to translate for us: Mrs. Yizhen Jia - Jing Fang lecturer at the University of Westminster, Ms. Katherine Gao - former RCHM president, and Ms. Ping Xu - Harley Street TCM practitioner. Our translators are fluent in English, Chinese and also well versed in medical terms.

Booking

Ticket options are listed on page 17, along with information about the venue, accommodation and more.

Please visit jingfangconference.com or call Phoenix Academy on +44 (0) 1245 350822 to book. Multi-buy course bundles are available at discounted rates.
CLASSICAL FORMULAS FOR MODERN DISEASE

Conference Weekend Programme

As it is very rare to experience an event like this, we aim to deliver the most comprehensive programme possible. We hope that this event will not only be a great learning experience, but also inspiring for those who are new to Jing Fang.

After an exciting first day of learning, please join us for a well-earned celebratory drinks reception and a delicious three course gala dinner, where you will have the chance to network and socialise with fellow delegates and our valued keynote speakers.

Day 1 - 29th September 2018

Methods & Experience of Jing Fang Application, 9.30-11.00

Prof. Huang will kickstart the conference by highlighting the differences between Jing Fang and TCM, and why more of us should practice it. He will then give us an overview of Jing Fang and how we identify common formula presentations within patients. Lastly, Prof. Huang will finish by giving a few words of wisdom from his successful career in Jing Fang to help you succeed.

Understanding the Six Channels, 11.30-13.00

Through years of evaluation and reorganisation of Master Hu Xishu’s legacy, Professor Feng Shilun has systematically improved the theory of Jing Fang medicine. It is a system that guides the diagnosis and treatment of diseases through the Six Channels and the Eight Principles. In this lecture, Prof. Feng will clarify the core principles of the Six Channels from the Shang Han Lun and Eight Principle theory.

Prof. Feng Shilun

Key Factors of Jing Fang, 14.00-15.30

Dr. Lou Shaokun is an advocate of treating patients by adapting classical formulas throughout the course of treatment, much like TCM. He believes that it is fundamental that practitioners make clinical judgment and diagnosis based on the symptoms presented and not the disease as labelled. In this lecture, Dr. Lou will present common clinical cases and identify the main symptoms that you should look for. We will also learn how to assign formulas and the methodology behind making modifications.

Dr. Lou Shaokun

Treatment of Colon Cancer with Jing Fang, 16.00-17.30

Prof. Wang has dedicated his career to treating cancer patients with Jing Fang and he is also the Vice President of the Oncology Society at the World Federation of TCM. In Europe, herbal medicine is rarely put into the driving seat of cancer treatment and is often used as a supplement to conventional methods. Prof. Wang will talk about his clinical experience and success stories in this field.

Prof. Wang Sanhu
Day 2 - 30th September 2018

Introduction to Comprehensive Studies of Classical Formulas, 9.30-11.00

The ultimate purpose of this lecture is to introduce comprehensive thinking which is crucial for skillful, precise and flexible application of classic formulas in clinic. In this lecture, Dr. Yao will discuss classic formulas from the perspectives of body constitutions named after herbs, the descriptions from Shang Han Lun, Jin Gui Yao Lue and from western medicine considerations.

Han Dynasty Huangdi Neijing View on Immune Response, 11.30-13.00

The Huangdi Neijing is the first and foremost medical textbook to describe the step by step process that the body goes through when responding against pathogenic affliction. The treatment of illness then can be seen as the restoration of immune imbalance.

During this presentation, Dr. Versluys will show that having classical understanding of the immune system and that using the differentiation model and herbal prescriptions that go along with this view, can provide the herbalist with a streamlined work method for the treatment of autoimmune disorders.

Clinical Application of Infertility on Syndrome Differentiation of the Six Meridians 14.00-15.30

In the west, we see an increasing number of couples who struggle to conceive. As Jing Fang practitioners, we can successfully identify the root syndromes contributing to infertility. Prof. Li’s presentation will be based on real life cases to discuss the pathology and disease mechanism of infertility, as well as how to use Jing Fang to treat those patients.

Prof. Li is highly respected as the Teaching Master of Guangdong Province and in the top 10 most outstanding women of Guangzhou. She is the chief physician, professor and dean of the department of “Treatise on Cold Damage” at Guangzhou University of TCM.

Application of the Six Channels in Practice, 16.00-17.30

Dr Tao will be presenting clinical case studies in which he uses the Six Channels theory to treat a number of complex exogenous and internal diseases. Dr Tao believes that Jing Fang is not just about the use of classical formulas, but more about the methodology behind diagnosis and corresponding treatments. Dr Tao will also explain step by step, the application of Six Channel theory according to the classical works of Master Hu Xishu. The lecture will be accompanied and supported by clinical case studies such as “Xiao Chai Hu Tang combined with Hou Pu Wen Zhong Tang to treat pain from stomach distention & fullness”.

Dr. Arnaud Versluys

Prof. Li Saimei

Dr. Tao Youqiang
A Case-based Instruction on the Treatment of Auto-Immune Disorders using Canonical Formulas from the Shanghan Lun and Jingui Yaolue

Dr. Arnaud Versluys
Director, Institute of Classics in East Asian Medicine

Full day course - Monday 1st October 2018
£230 (incl. lunch & refreshments)

Objectives:

- This course will present the participant with valuable clinical strategies while deepening the understanding of immune disorders from a classical perspective.
- This course will teach the participant to treat a wide variety of auto-immune disorders using classical herbal prescriptions.

The Shanghan Zabing Lun or the Treatise on Cold Damage and Complex Diseases is the original clinical manual in Chinese medicine. The original work was lost to the tooth of time, but most of its contents are preserved in two extant works called the Treatise on Cold Damage Shanghan Lun and the Concise Essentials of the Golden Cabinet Jingui Yaolue.

The Shanghan Lun instructs on the treatment of a variety of disorders that were triggered by external influences. The body’s external layers of defence were attacked by an atmospheric pathogenic influence which consecutively triggered a barrage of pathological changes. These pathological processes then unfolded in the body as time progressed and the true qi of the body weakened, ultimately leading to chronic and complex conditions. The Shanghan Lun primarily addresses the treatment of these initial stages of pathology when the channels are still obviously involved and when the disease can still be categorised along the six conformations.

The second half of the work or the Jingui Yaolue, teaches the treatment of complex diseases. This category of diseases can be seen as an extension to the cold damage disorders, in that it often involves diseases that originally started on the surface. However these have now advanced so far that more than three conformations have been compromised pathologically. It also describes the treatment of a category of diseases that have originated from the inside of the body and are not externally contracted. Compared to cold damage, these diseases show an obvious absence of channel pathology while displaying predominantly organ and tissue dysfunction. These complex disorders can display both acute onsets and chronic processes.

In this course, Dr. Versluys will present the treatment of auto-immune disorders from the Shanghan Lun and Jingui Yaolue perspective. The clinical nature of the topic lends itself to a case-based delivery of the material. Dr. Versluys has for years exclusively been practicing the classical style of internal medicine as instructed in the Shanghan and the Jingui, and has amassed a great amount of experience in this field. In this course, he will share this experience as it pertains to the classical herbal treatment of immune disorders, such as Crohn's Disease; Auto-immune Hepatitis; Scleroderma; Rheumatoid Arthritis; Polymyalgia Rheumatica; Lupus SLE; Raynaud’s phenomenon; Psoriatic Arthritis; Hashimoto’s Thyroiditis etc.

This course will present the participant with valuable clinical strategies while deepening the understanding of immune disorders from a classical perspective.

About Dr. Arnaud Versluys

Dr. Versluys is one of the very few Westerners to have received his full medical training in China. He spent 12 years at Chinese medical universities of Wuhan, Beijing and Chengdu, where he pursued his Bachelor, Master and Doctorate degrees in Chinese medicine.

Originally from Belgium, Dr. Versluys moved to Portland, USA in 2003 where he worked as assistant professor and clinical supervisor at the Chinese medicine program at NCNM from 2003 to 2008. He is an internationally renowned lecturer often teaching in Europe, Canada and Australia. He has published many articles on acupuncture and botanical medicine and has completed a book on the science of herbal prescriptions.

In 1999, Dr. Versluys met his lifelong teacher, Dr. Zeng Rongxiu (1931-2012), disciple of the renowned Sichuan Shanghan Lun master Tian Heming (1883-1980), also known as Tian Bawei. Dr. Versluys trained under Dr. Zeng Rongxiu in traditional Shanghan Lun discipleship for 13 years. This consolidated and strengthened his passion for the Han-dynasty canonical style of Chinese herbal medicine as presented in the Shanghan Lun and Jingui Yaolue, and specifically as practiced in the Tian Lineage.
Jing Fang Treatment for Asthma & Bi Syndromes

Full day course - Tuesday 2nd October 2018

£230 (incl. lunch & refreshments)

Professor Feng and Dr Tao will provide some of their most notable clinical case studies and describe the formulas needed for various rheumatic and respiratory conditions. We will learn the application principles and techniques needed to treat complex cases. During this course, you will have the opportunity to ask questions to Prof. Feng and learn his specialist techniques first-hand.

Asthma

Based on the combination of the 6 channels and the 8 principles syndrome differentiation theory, we can interpret asthmatic syndromes and apply Jing Fang (classic formulas). There is a significant difference between Jing Fang Medical Science and Shi Fang Medical Science in the treatment of asthma. Jing Fang is based on the Six Channels (Liu Jing) and Eight Principles (Ba Gang) Syndrome Differentiation theory which comes from Shang Han Lun (Treatise on Cold Damage). Shi Fang Medical Science is based on the Zang Fu Principle Syndrome Differentiation Theory which comes from the Huang Di Nei Jing (Yellow Emperor’s Inner Classics). Fortunately, Professor Feng has a unique understanding of treating asthma, especially Six Channel Differential Treatment of asthma combined with phlegm and blood stagnation. Along with clinical case studies, he will use his experience to teach us the commonly used formulas used to treat this syndrome. He will highlight the methodology and the application process of treatment of complex cases which have more than one syndrome.

Bi Syndrome (Bi Zheng)

In this lecture, Prof. Feng will apply the Jing Fang theory to analyse the typical signs and symptoms of Bi Syndrome. By summarising the classical and derivative formulas, he will explore the treatment of Bi Syndrome with interesting clinical case studies. Prof Feng will explain that when treating Six Channel syndromes, it is more often that you will also need to treat Shao Yin syndrome. To do this, there are common rules and specific rules to follow. He emphasizes the comorbidity of the Half-internal and Half-external (Ban Biao Ban Li) Syndrome with the Shao Yin Syndrome.
About Professor Feng Shilun

Feng Shilun is a professor and known worldwide as the famous Chief Physician in the capital city of Beijing. He is an honorary Chairman of the Beijing Traditional Chinese Medicine of Zhang Zhongjing Teachings Association. Besides teaching in Beijing, he is also a visiting professor, senior academic and medical advisor for many Chinese medical universities and hospitals across the globe.

Extraordinarily, Dr. Feng still practices 6 days a week at the Sino-Japanese Friendship Hospital in Beijing. Over the years, Feng Shilun has dedicated his career to bringing classical Chinese medicine to the modern world through scientific research, clinical practice and teaching. He has published over 10 different books and multiple articles all advocating the Jing Fang method of the Shang Han Lun. He has also been engaged in clinical studies and trials to treat bronchitis and Rheumatoid Arthritis. Prof. Feng also won the Science and Technology Prize awarded by the Ministry of Health.

He specialises in treating the common diseases in internal medicine, surgery, gynaecology and paediatrics. He has had immense success in treating fever and diseases by extra heat, cough and asthma; gastrointestinal disease; hepatobiliary disease; Bi Syndrome; endocrine disorders; Sjögren’s syndrome; paediatric cough; irregular menstruation; chronic prostatitis; infertility; and intractable pruritus (itching). In particular, he has a deep understanding and rich experience in application of Classical Formulas to treat various difficult and complicated diseases. He achieves great clinical results by using simple but very effective prescriptions.

Feng Shilun is internationally recognised and we are incredibly honoured to have him join us at the International Jing Fang Conference.

About Dr. Tao Youqiang

Dr. Tao Youqiang is a pupil of Jing Fang master, Feng Shilun. He received his Master’s degree in Chinese medicine and is now devoted to teaching classical Jing Fang formulas.

Since graduating, Dr. Tao has published more than 10 academic papers and taken part in numerous research programmes—all relating to different aspects of Jing Fang. He has also taught all around the world, including America, Australia, South Korea, Russia, Canada and France.

Dr. Tao focuses on psychological counselling and stresses the importance of a healthy lifestyle.

Some of his areas of expertise include chronic fatigue syndrome, chronic gastroenteritis, rheumatism and chronic prostatitis.
Classic Formulas for Female Infertility, Blood Stagnation & Related Diseases

In Partnership with Five Branches University, USA

Prof. Robert Yao

Five Branches University. San Jose California USA

Full day course - Wednesday 3rd October 2018

(incl. lunch & refreshments)

Objectives:

- The purpose of this lecture is to teach students how to identify various body patterns which present in infertile women and their manifestations in different formula indications.

From a TCM point of view, the causes of female infertility mainly cover Yang deficiency of the kidney, Yin deficiency of the kidney, Liver Depression, Phlegm and Dampness, and Blood Stasis.

From a Western Medicine point of view, the causes of female infertility involve ovulation disorders (including PCOS), fallopian tube damage, endometriosis, uterine or cervical disorders and unexplained infertility.

Various gynaecological disorders have been treated in practice with the formulas below and their modifications:
- Wen Jing Tang
- Gui Zhi Fu Ling Wan
- Si Ni San
- Dang Gui Shao Yao San
- Shao Yao Gan Cao Tang
- Dang Gui Si Ni Tang
- Zhen Wu Tang
- Shen Qi Wan

The pharmacological properties of these formulas will be explored so that you are able to understand the mechanisms behind them. You will also learn how to adjust these formulas clinically according to each patient’s body pattern and formula indications. After this course, you will be able to expertly prescribe the appropriate treatment for different cases of infertility.

The latest research in this field, such as the role of autoimmunity in female infertility, will also be discussed.

For this class, we encourage students to bring their own clinical case studies. Towards the end of the day, we will present and discuss various cases amongst the group and with Professor Yao, who will give his expert analysis.
About Professor Robert Yao

Prof. Yao has dedicated over 30 years to TCM and is now one of the experts of Jing Fang. Dr. Robert Yao is a professor at the Graduate School of Traditional Chinese Medicine, Five Branches University in San Jose, California, USA. He is also a visiting professor at the International Institute of Jing Fang at Nanjing University of Chinese Medicine, China. He was a visiting scholar at Stanford University School of Medicine from 1991 to 1994.

He received his Masters of Medicine in Internal Medicine from Capital Medical University then later received his PhD in Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine from Five Branches University, California. Prof. Yao was also awarded the ‘Lesley David Burgess Lifetime Achievement Award’, by the government of Santa Clara County, California USA for his “thoughtful, careful and comprehensive care to thousands of patients afflicted with HIV” using Traditional Chinese Medicine.

Professor Yao is fluent in English and medical terms of English.

This course will be taught in English.

Jing Fang and Acupuncture are the most valuable treasures of Classical Chinese Medicine. Jing Fang, also known as Classical Herbalism, originated from thousands of years of clinical application of natural ingredients. The clinical application of Jing Fang focuses on prescriptions corresponding to symptoms. Due to the abstract content from classical texts, it is challenging to reveal the secrets of Jing Fang application.

Prof. Huang Huang is passionate about Jing Fang research and clinical application. He has spent decades developing a simplified method for the use of Jing Fang. His systematic method of body constitution differentiation is based on clinical applications. His method has attracted a great amount of attention worldwide and students find it captivating to learn.

Prof. Huang will focus on the most commonly used formulae: Huang Qi Family, Ban Xia Family and Gan Cao Family. These formulas are commonly used for diabetes, cardiovascular diseases, emotional symptoms, auto-immune diseases, digestive diseases, and as well as cancer treatments. Prof. Huang will explain each formula in detail, to enable us to understand the method of Jing Fang application. He will provide his most useful clinical case studies to encourage us to practice Jing Fang with confidence.

“If you take Acupuncture and Moxibustion in one hand, and in the other take Jing Fang, you will then be a successful Chinese Medicine Practitioner!” - Prof. Huang Huang

About Professor Huang Huang

Huang Huang is a world-renowned classical practitioner and is named as the “Renowned Chinese Doctor of Jiangsu Province”. He has been an academic at Nanjing University of Chinese Medicine since 1982. Today, he is a Professor, Doctoral Supervisor and also the Dean of the International Jing Fang Institute at the University. Prof. Huang has also lectured widely throughout China, and recently in the United States and Australia as well.

Prof. Huang started his education in 1973, with assistance from famous doctors from Jiangsu province. In 1979, Prof. Huang majored in Chinese medical theory, then later obtained his Masters in Medicine in 1982. He then went on to complete his Doctor’s Degree in Medicine at the Juntendo University School of Medicine in Japan in 1999.

Prof. Huang advocates the study and application of classical formulas, the modern literature on single herb and formula indications, and the application for classical formula patterns on constitutional types. Prof. Huang has focused on studying the experiences of famous TCM clinicians and examining the different schools of classical formulas. He encourages comparing different schools of thought in Chinese medical theory in each era.

We are fortunate to have experts like Prof. Huang who are able to draw the essence from the well of Chinese medicine, but also with the enthusiasm to synthesise the contributions of doctors from the past, and clinically apply the knowledge to modern life. Furthermore, he is well known for his captivating teaching style which students find enjoyable to learn.

Food & Drink

During the event, a three course buffet lunch will be provided each day. The venue boasts four in-house restaurants including Carluccio’s. We are fortunate to have Paul Quinn, Executive Chef at the Marriott, catering for the Gala Dinner. He will be serving a delicious 3-course dinner, taking us on a gastronomical journey by paying homage to the art of herbal medicine. There are also local supermarkets nearby.

Allergies & Intolerances
If you have any dietary requirements, please get in touch prior to the event so that we can make special arrangements.
